

FREDDY-BOY'S MENAGERIE

I never had an Ostrich Bird
And tried to keep him in a cage,
But what his feathers all fell off—
And HE fell in a rage!

---

ANDY GIVES ADVICE

Andrew Carnegie is giving us advice as well as libraries. He tells just how "every boy can become as successful as I am." It's worth knowing, so here you have it:

"Get married young; don't smoke or drink; do more work than is expected of you; live on $25.00 a week."

Thus you will accumulate $400,000,000. But—in case you shouldn't get your paws on more than $399,999,999.99 it is well to bear in mind Mr. Carnegie's further remarks:

"Money isn't everything. It is merely a trifle." Thanks, Andy, thanks!

---

Kindred Spirits.

"Lady," said Plodding Pete, "I ain't had a square meal in two days."

"Well," said the resolute woman, as she turned the dog loose, "neither has Towser, so I know you'll excuse him."—Washington Star.

"This fellow is a genius."

"I doubt it. I noticed that he found his spectacles in the first place he looked for them."